

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Since 1976, Habitat for Humanity has partnered with community members around the world to construct homes for families who need a decent, safe place to live. Every day, the Milwaukee area Habitat for Humanity takes small groups of volunteers to spend a full day dry walling and painting. On September, 14th the Gardner Bender team worked up a sweat dry walling for this incredible cause.

Not only are these homes a safe haven for families in need, but communities with Habitat homes have also seen a significant drop in crime rate around the nation. Homeowners of Habitat homes achieve the strength, stability and independence they need to build a better life for themselves and for their families.

Senior Channel Manager Dustin Uebelacker had this to say about the event: "I feel great that I was able to go out and do something for the community to make a difference. I am beyond thankful that I can work for a company like Gardner Bender who was willing to help fund this project and encouraged all of us to attend and help."
